Ad Text Leon Moss, 12, is Atlanta resident. His mother discovered Leon's talent when he was 9-year-old. She began to take him to local museums such as the Apex, the Sights and Sounds Black Cultural Museum and the Fernbank Museum of Natural History.

To improve Leon's skills of painting he began to attend art classes of R. Gregory Christies. Non-profit organization the Southwest Atlanta Youth Business Organization (SWAYBO) also helped Leon in many ways.

According to blacknews.com, the organization gave him lessons of "poise and presentation, public speaking, sales and marketing at marketplaces and how to perform basic accounting formulas. With SWAYBO, Leon has met judges, successful business owners and other pillars of the Black community."

Now Moss makes illustrations and sells the copies of his works. The first book with his illustrations is As Big As God.

That's what we call the support of family and the community! Good luck, Leon! We should believe in ourselves just like Leon's mother believed in him. Our roots are strong; just imagine how strong you can be if only you grow with your roots!
